

Careers Week - Architect

A parent came into school today to talk about his job as an architect. He challenged Year 4 to build the tallest tower they could out of spaghetti and marshmallows that would stay together when the tables were wobbled.

