Features of instructions

Where might you see instructions?

Taming a Dragon

Dragons can be very nervous around Vikings. Therefore, it is very important to gain their trust.

Firstly, ensure that both you and the dragon are in a safe space.

Next, check the dragon has seen you and do not make any sudden movements. Do not approach the dragon from behind as this will scare it.

When the dragon seems comfortable, cautiously offer it some food. If you choose the wrong type of food (eels), the dragon may back away again.

Once the dragon has eaten, sit back and wait patiently for the dragon to come to you. If you rush the friendship, it will just fly away.
